Company Profile and History

Stand Your Truth, founded by Author and South African Native, Mandisa Mndela, in 2012. Taking from her life experiences chronicled in her 3 books.

1. “Stand” – 2012 (Foundation)
2. “7Letters 7Years” – 2014 (Structure)
3. “The Dawn” – 2016 (Roof)

Moved by the displacement of our age, the lack of sense of worth and purpose of our young people ...

This, that gave birth to the curriculum and the platform that bears a human experience.

Stand Life Skills

Introduction to the “STAND” Life Skills

What is STAND?

The STAND Life Skills Subject proposes to be a comprehensive addendum to the educational system whereby Stand Your Truth will render a systematic approach to igniting the internal-imagination of students at all levels of the educational spectrum.

The STAND Life Skills Subject will be committed to impacting the lives of students through the development and implementation of life skills which emphasize the value of internal fortitude and self-worth, ultimately spearheading a movement of young leaders who act as change agents for their local and greater community societies.

Mirroring a higher-educational incubator, STAND will provide an environment for youth to discuss, learn and effect change within themselves, which ultimately will arm students with the capacity to effect change in the world beyond. Goal of the STAND Life Skills Subject is to increase emphasis on development of personal well-being, including self-worth. Balance in life among personal care, work and play that leads to satisfaction and personal growth which enables further positive impact on society.

Why Stand Curriculum & Why Now?

In addition to the standard educational curriculum, there has increasingly been a corresponding need for an inner/emotive curriculum which seeks to inform, strengthen and inspire the health and fitness of students' inner imagination and self-esteem.

With more and more well-meaning parents stymied by the challenging workplace/career demands required to provide the child-student's food/clothing/shelter, there is often too little time or energy left for such parents to adequately address the needs of the student's other personal-developmental intangibles.

The STAND Life Skills Subject addresses and provides an organized mechanism by which this critical life-development void may be filled.

The Curriculum that bears a human experience

(Emotional Intelligence balanced with Intellect)

We do not impose authority on learners, for we not to treat them as functions rather than human beings, all has to come out of conviction not forced obedience, using our experience as guiding light not as their goal

Our main asset is humanity.

Mission

To make a lasting positive impact on local and greater communities ultimately, the world over through the lives of its youth.

STAND endeavours to be a world over powerhouse of life skills training, youth development/ leadership training and community development.

STAND will ultimately foster a world over movement of youth leaders by creating incubators to fortify the emotional/internal imagination of students.

The STAND Life Skills Subject

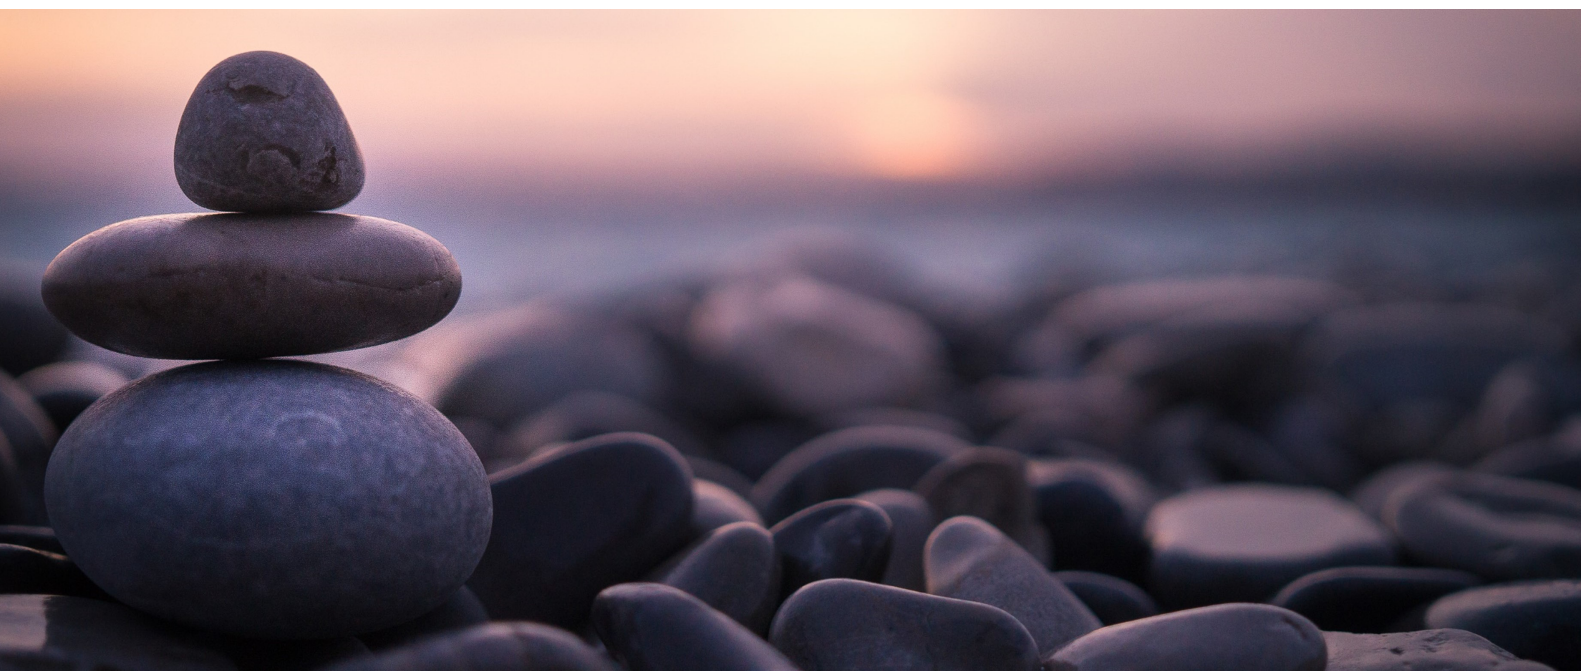

Definition

Stand We Skills Subject is meant to deliver a message and enlightenment on total and complete freedom of the individual learner, to understand that the most important kind of freedom is to be what you truly are. For the individual learner to know that there can't be any large scale transformation until there is a personal transformation on an individual level.

It's got to happen inside first!

Purpose/ Objectives

1. Prepare young people from within for the world out.

The Platform

Introduction:

What is STAND YOUR TRUTH PLATFORM

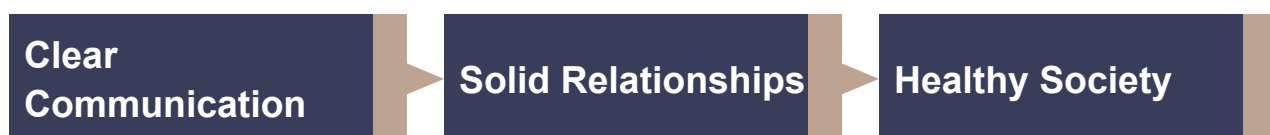

Stand Your Truth is a subscription-based online and otherwise community, designed to foster communication, inspiration and personal growth among Adults, Young Adults and Teenagers. It is a space where community members work collaboratively to address everyday communication issues, bringing solutions to some of life's complex challenges.

At Stand Your Truth, we believe that by working together, we can increase each other's sense of fulfilment and community – and by doing so, we can improve society as a whole.

Stand Your Truth believes that, the most important kind of freedom is to be, who you truly are, it believes that there can't be any large scale transformation until there is a personal transformation on an individual level.

It's got to happen inside first.

The vehicle to the destination is communication.

Why Stand Your Truth Platform? & Why Now?

With more and more well-meaning parents stymied by the challenging workplace/career demands required to provide the child-student's young one's food/clothing/shelter, there is often too little time or energy left for such parents to adequately address the needs of the young one's other personal-developmental intangibles. Stand Your Truth Platform addresses and provides an organized mechanism by which this critical life-development void may be filled.

Stand Your Truth believes that through its platform, the light to fill this void will pierce through the darkness and birth a community that is working together, looking at each other through the lens of compassion and understanding rather than judgement and jealousy, enabling one another to see ourselves for who we truly are – Human Beings beautifully imperfect going through the same universal challenges.

A community that is using the very advancing communication technology to make sure that it does not eliminate the importance of added time to think/digest/disseminate/evaluate and act upon. Remembering that the proper function of technology is to serve thought not to master it.

The STAND Your Truth Platform, has these three areas of engagement:

- 1. Adults Wealthy & Wise
- 2. Young Alive Aware
- 3. Teenagers Energetic & Enlightened

Adults Wealthy & Wise – (AWW)

Adults Wealthy and Wise (AWW) facilitates improved communication and understanding between adults and the teens in their lives. The Platform also challenges adults how to provide discipline, set boundaries and help their young ones get inspired.

AWW is Platform for adults seeking to lead, teach and guide with truth and love. It's a community for those who want to leave the next generation with more than a financial inheritance – for those who wish to help young people gain the wisdom and wealth of spirit needed to be future leaders.

Adults Wealthy and Wise is for adults who want to positively impact young people, and through them, the world.

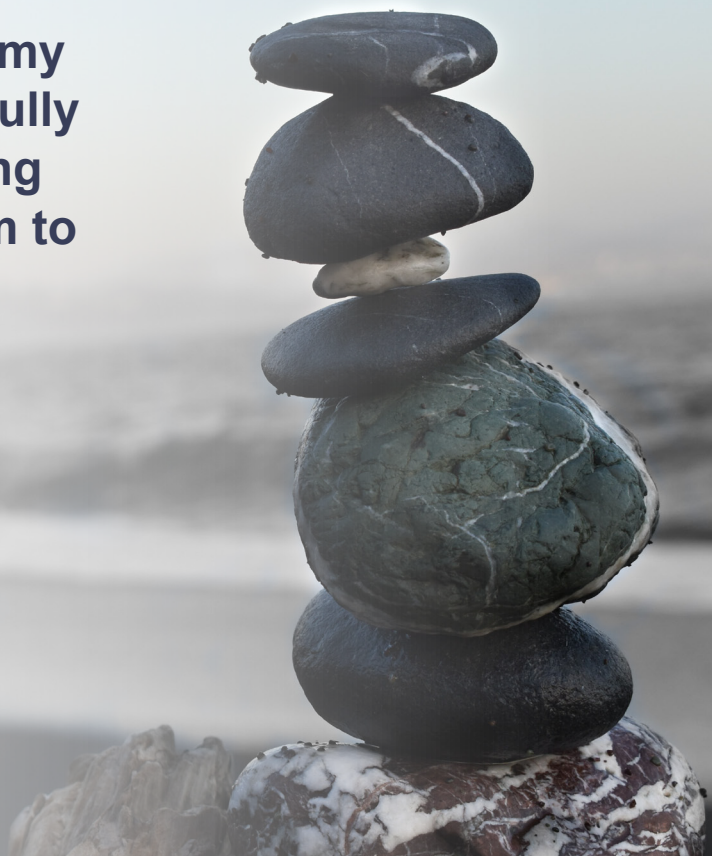

AWW will help you open the lines of communication with your young people, and will enable you to leave your wisdom and legacy in capable hands. Not only will this be fulfilling to you, it will also be the most precious gift you could pass on to anyone.

It's time to repair the communication breakdown with our young people and reach-out to them in a language they understand.

1. Clear Communication
2. Truthfully & Lovingly Support
3. Impart Wisdom with Ease

AWW Commitment Statement:

To stand my truth, guided by my wealthy spirit and soul, truthfully and lovingly support the young ones, as I pass on the wisdom to the next generation.

Young Alive Aware – (YAA)

Young, Alive Aware is a vibrant and spirited community that challenges today's youth to think outside the box, shifting them out of their comfort zone and into taking responsibility. YAA inspires young people to take a stand and do what's needed to make their mark on the world.

Our mission is to inspire the youth to act, to create a well needed change that will result in a better tomorrow. A tomorrow that is worth waking up to. Not just for some, but for all.

YAA is a place to develop positively, spiritually, mentally and emotionally. YAA is about social and personal responsibility, self-esteem and environmental development. It is a place where youth from all over the world can come together to encourage one another, help each other grow and hold each other accountable.

YAA offers young adults a platform for their voices to be heard. YAA helps young people find purpose and address the issues facing their generation together.

1. Clear Communication
2. Service & Leadership
3. Align your calling with your business/career

YAA Commitment Statement:

To stand my truth in living
my life in full awareness of my responsibilities and surroundings, as I use my business/career to serve.

Teenagers Energetic & Enlightened – (TEE)

Teens Energetic and Enlightened (TEE) provides teens with guidance that speaks their language and teaches them simple, effective communication strategies.

Teens Energetic and Enlightened is a community of enthusiastic teens. TEE know who they are, confident in their beliefs and are not afraid to share them with the world. TEE encourages you to make smart decisions, have fun and enjoy being a teenager to the fullest

As a teen, you are responsible for your own destiny, and the choices you make now will help determine your future. But you don't have to make those choices alone – TEE can help you choose wisely.

Remember, you are not going to be a teenager forever. When your teen years come to an end, you want to be ready to handle the next phase of your life. TEE helps you take responsibility and make the transition from teen to young adult. At the same time, TEE lets you make your teen years what they are supposed to be.

1. Clear Communication
2. Service & Leadership
3. Align your calling with your business/career

TEE Commitment Statement:

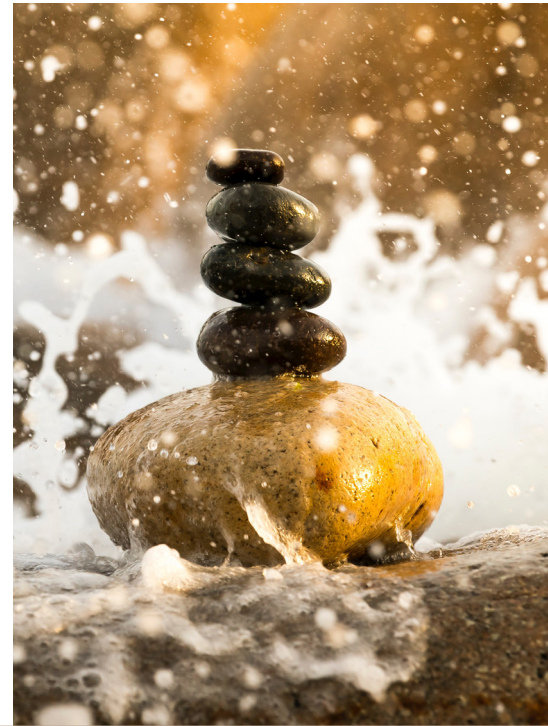

To stand my truth, energetically communicate my feelings, expressing myself in an honourable and respectful manner as I seek for guidance to my enlightenment.

Mission

To make a lasting positive impact on greater communities, and ultimately, the world over.

STAND YOUR TRUTH endeavours to be a powerhouse of life skills training, youth development/leadership training and community development.

STAND YOUR TRUTH will ultimately foster a movement of youth leaders by creating incubators to fortify the emotional/internal imagination of young people through effective communication.
